

John Morgan

Bio

John Morgan is a pastor, evangelist, trainer, and mentor. John loves God and loves the church and has committed his lifetime to building it as a strong, exciting and vibrant counterpart to an amazing Savior. John is totally committed to seeing the church become a mature Christ-centered culture where people grow intellectually sound, emotionally stable, physically healthy, spiritually passionate, and where people develop real relationships and true community.

John is delighted to be married to Anna, who is the Executive Pastor at City Church in Chicago--they love the church and its mission and together have a vision to see leaders thrive in healthy, growing local churches. They have three daughters Sharayah, Chloe and Brooke—and most recently welcomed their first grandson, Marcus.
